A good post Pete, but unfortunately I don't have the confidence in our security services and police as the interviewer did as they are in the control of the enemy.

Very true N', and if they were to act, the US or another would invade us.

Agreed both

The key is surely public awareness. Bridgen is certainly more confident about that than I am. But still, awareness has definitely increased. It won't take a majority to tip the scales, a decent minority would suffice

Bridgen is a hero. Not something that I've ever said before about an MP! I have nagging doubts about him but his track record over this speaks for itself

Yes, like you I do have my doubts about AB, but as you rightly say, he is waking people up, probably as a distraction while something more sinister is being rolled out, as even GBnews is talking about the C V deaths. They are banking on us being taken out when they switch on the 5G to cause the next pandemic. They have already invaded us and have their army billeted in 5star hotels ready to go. The USA isn't a foreign power which itself is controlled by the largest world power, namely, The City of London!!
